To prevent palpebral ptosis, the direction of the injection needle should be the same as the corrugator supercilii muscle.

Skin thickness:
The facial expression muscles are distributed throughout several layers and perform two functions: contraction and tightening to the opening of the facial hole and the movement of the facial skin.

Inject 2U shallowly.

The position of modiolus is most commonly located below the mouth corners in Asian.

third of the depressor angulloris muscle.

0.5 cm lateral to the medial side.